Through the

MANUFACTURERS RECORD

For 36 Years the South's Leading Industrial Weekly

THE sixteen Southern and Southwestern States, extending fr Maryland to Texas, are enjoying unprecedented prosperity and remarkable expansion all lines of commercial, industrial, agricultural and general activities.

Out of this is being created a steadily increasing demand for all kinds of materials, equipment, machinery and supplies, making this section a market which is claiming the earnest attention of manufacturers throughout the country.

For over thirty-six years the Manufacturers Record has been the leading industrial weekly paper of the South and Southwest, and has an established prestige and influence among the important manufacturers public officials, engineers, contractors and progressive business men generally, in these sections.

The editorial and reading pages of the Manufacturers Record thoroughly cover industrial, commercial, railroad, financial and public improvement questions in a broad, up-building manner that appeals with special interest to the business men.

In its "Construction Department" approximately 50,000 items are published annually covering new undertakings, new construction work, bids being asked, contracts being awarded. These items show valuable opportunities for the sale of products of every character.

Over a thousand advertisers, including many of the country's leading manufacturers, are regularly using the Manufacturers Record, which is a convincing evidence of its selling power as an advertising medium.

Write us for full information regarding the services the Manufacturers Record can render you for increasing your business in the South and Southwest.

ENGINEERING AND CONTRACTING

CIVIL ENGINEERING and its allied contracting are divided into four major divisions—(1) highways, (2) Hydraulics, (3) railways and government works, and (4) structures. By publishing a monthly magazine corresponding to each of these four divisions, and co-ordinating all four monthlies in weekly sequence so as to produce a weekly journal whose articles cover the entire field of civil engineering, ENGINEERING and CONTRACTING has met the great demand for specialized service and at the same time supplies the equally great demand for a broad service both as to articles and contract news.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

First Wednesday Each Month	Roads and Streets	$1 Yearly
Second Wednesday Each Month	Waterworks and Hydraulics	$1 Yearly
Third Wednesday Each Month	Railways and Gov't Works	$1 Yearly
Fourth Wednesday Each Month	Buildings and Structures	$1 Yearly
Fifth Wednesday, 4 times yearly	Special Quarterly
Every Wednesday	All with Contract News	$3 Yearly

CONTRACT NEWS APPEARS IN ALL ISSUES

ENGINEERING and CONTRACTING offers the least waste circulation, and the widest scope for any advertising campaign in the civil engineering and contracting field. Its method of publication is sound in every respect.

In an age of specialization it goes to the practical limit of specialization. It stands unique among publications in the civil engineering and contracting field.

Preface

IN presenting this new—27th annual—edition of "HENDRICKS' COMMERCIAL REGISTER" the publishers would draw attention to the fact that it has been revised and corrected up to the latest possible moment.

The information contained therein has been compiled from data supplied by the concerns listed, obtained by our representatives on personal calls or received direct in response to a request for such particulars.

This original and reliable information will be appreciated by our subscribers and as a consequence the work merits a continuance of the patronage it has so long enjoyed.

The publishers invite suggestions for the improvement of the book which will be gratefully received and acted upon as far as practicable.

INDEX TO TRADE CLASSIFICATIONS

FOR INDEX TO NAMES OF ADVERTISERS WITH THEIR BRANCH OFFICES, SEE END OF BOOK

NOTE.—The cross references following many of the classifications are inserted to draw attention to other branches of business connected with such classifications, and a little study of them will often result in the finding of desired information which at first glance might appear to be omitted

Many of the names listed under the classifications to which this Index refers are followed by detail matter, trade names, etc. This information is invaluable to buyers and should be closely observed, as it is a special feature of the work. See also separate Trade Names, Brands, etc., Section page 1669.

Classifications which are marked thus * in the body of the Register are inserted for concerns using this publication for publicity purposes. Other concerns in similar lines of business will always be found under the standard classifications.

We earnestly hope that all new firms connected with the industries included in this Register will send us their business cards, and thus aid us to maintain our high standards of excellence.

Business changes, additions or corrections for the next edition will be thankfully received and INSERTED FREE OF CHARGE.

HENDRICKS' COMMERCIAL REGISTER

OF THE UNITED STATES

FOR BUYERS AND SELLERS

27th EDITION 1918-1919

CLASSIFIED TRADES SECTION

Classifications marked thus * are inserted for concerns using this publication for publicity purposes. Other concerns in similar lines of business will be found under standard classifications.

Note.—The "Index to Classifications" should always be referred to when the desired information is not found in alphabetical order in the following pages. Many articles of a similar nature only appear under one general classification. For example, "galvanized steel sheets" cannot be found under the letter "G," but a reference to the "Index to Classifications" shows them at classification 6715, and when that number is looked at the required information is given under the listing of "Iron and Steel Sheet (Black and Galvanized)."

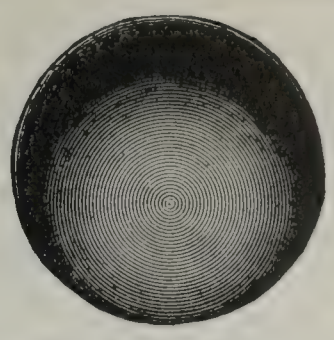
WAMSCO BRAND STEEL BALLS



Wamsco steel balls are manufactured from the highest grades of chrome alloy steel and high duty carbon steel. Care and precision mark each step in the work. Our processes yield steel balls whose surface is highly polished and exceedingly hard; a small central area of the greatest toughness imparts

High Elastic limit
Resistance to load and strain
Durability under wear

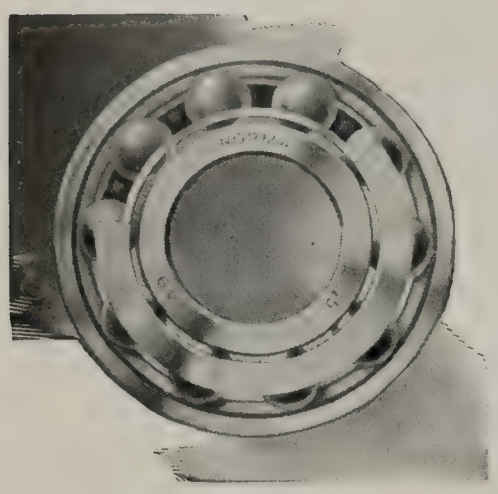
"NORMA"
PRECISION BEARINGS

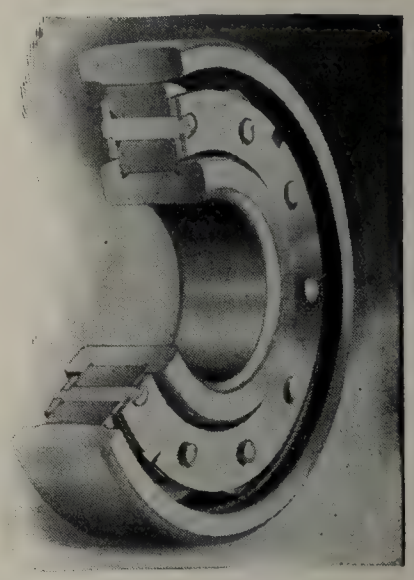


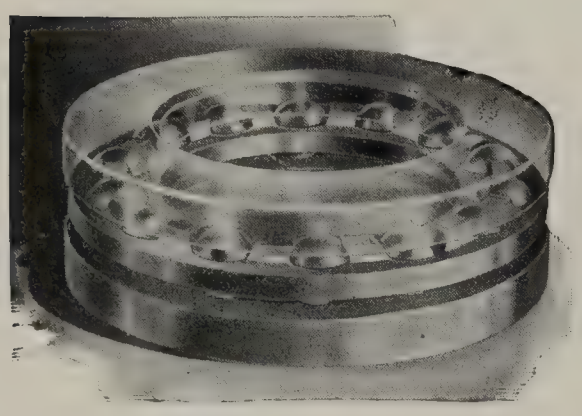
"NORMA"
BALL BEARINGS

Open type, separable bearings of extremely high precision, rigidly mounted, silent running, with every element in workmanship and design contributing to high-efficiency, long-time service; notably successful in high-speed operation, being the standard bearings with most of the leading manufacturers of high-speed electrical apparatus.

"NORMA"
ROLLER BEARINGS

Heavy-duty, high-efficiency bearings pre-eminently adapted for service where shock, jar, vibration and sudden load variations must be encountered; double the load capacity of a ball bearing of the same dimensions; temporary overload capacity up to 50 per cent of their own rating; high-speed, quiet-running units of extreme precision and maximum durability.





"NORMA"
THRUST BEARINGS

Precision units affording maximum anti-friction efficiency under end thrust loads; designed to afford long-service durability and silent-running qualities; made in several styles, single and double, both without housings and with housings of several types giving self-contained advantages.

"NORMA"
COMBINATION BEARINGS

Self-contained units affording perfect adjustment and maximum anti-friction efficiency under combined radial and thrust load; two types—combined annular and ball thrust, and combined roller and ball thrust; distinguished by high precision, open type construction, rigid mounting, silent running and high-speed qualities.
